MICRONEEDLING

DESCRIPTION

Microneedling also known as Collagen Induction Therapy (CIT) is a minimally invasive procedure and a natural means to rejuvenate the skin.

The pinpricks from microneedling cause a minor injury to the skin, the skin responds by making new collagen-rich tissue. Microneedling treats a wide variety of skin problems such as scars, wrinkles, hyperpigmentation, acne, alopecia, etc. It also enhances product absorption by enabling topical products to work on the deeper layers of the skin.
